Barkley and Kentucky Lake, make a great area for nature study, fishing, boating, camping and hiking. There are river cities such as Paducah, home of the American Quilter's Society Museum, and, in Princeton, history comes alive with each season at Adsmore. Murray's National Scouting Museum is fun for all ages. Kentucky's Great Lakes region is the great outdoors and much, much more.

An outdoor wonderland doesn't get any better than the Big South National River and Recreation Area. This place is unbelievably spectacular: a rugged, mountainous wilderness bisected by a deep gorge and a raging river. It's perfect for camping, hiking and whitewater rafting. There's also a scenic train ride and a re-created coal mining town. Nearby are fabulous Lake Cumberland, Green River Lake, and Dale Hollow Lake, with thousands of secluded coves ideal for houseboating and weekend fun. You'll find plenty of lake resorts and great places to visit in Southern Kentucky's Outdoor Wonderland.
